CANDIDATE FOR AHIMA BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Bridging Policy, Technology, and Trust

*Advancing the future of health information through leadership, interoperability,
and trusted information.*

WHY I'M RUNNING

Health information professionals are at the center of healthcare's most important challenges and opportunities.

As healthcare rapidly evolves through interoperability, artificial intelligence, and digital transformation, our profession must continue to lead. I am running for the AHIMA Board of Directors to help ensure health information professionals remain trusted leaders in data governance, privacy, information integrity, and healthcare innovation.

Together, we can strengthen our profession, support workforce development, and advance AHIMA's mission of empowering people to impact health through trusted information.
