Six Ways Health Information Professionals Can Get Involved in Advocacy & Public Policy

1. READ
   - Sign up for AHIMA’s advocacy alerts
   - Follow the Advocacy & Policy community on ACCESS
   - Follow AHIMA’s “Under the Dome column”

2. LEARN
   - Listen to AHIMA’s HI Pitch podcast
   - Attend AHIMA’s advocacy and public policy webinars

3. WRITE
   - Contact your Members of Congress about issues that matter to the HI profession when alerted by AHIMA
   - If you’re a delegate, offer feedback on AHIMA’s public policy statements

4. VOLUNTEER
   - Volunteer for the Advocacy & Policy Council
   - Watch AHIMA’s weekly eAlert for periodic, short-term opportunities to provide expertise

5. SHARE
   - Share AHIMA’s action alerts with friends and family
   - Follow and share content from AHIMA on social media

6. SPEAK
   - Meet with your Members of Congress back home or at AHIMA’s Advocacy Summit in Washington, DC
   - Speak up about critical issues on AHIMA’s Advocacy Agenda within your organization.

Ready to be a force for change?
Visit www.ahima.org/advocacy to get started.